Treat the One You Love

Valentine's Day is a special day to celebrate the individuals that you love and hold dear. Local businesses in Prestonsburg are here to help and sweet treats are a great place to start. Sugar Magnolia's located on Court Street can provide you with a catered dinner, dessert, and chocolate covered strawberries. FTD Bakery located on South Lake Drive is offering mini cakes, red velvet whoopie pies, and Valentine brownie packs. These two businesses are also partnering to offer a Valentine Trivia Date Night on February 11th. Tickets for this super fun night are $15 each. They are offering a limited amount of spots for Valentine's Day so make sure to place those orders before time runs out! Share the Love and shop Local.

THEATRE ALIVE IN THE BURG

Theatrical productions have long been a part of Prestonsburg. For decades people have flocked to Jenny Wiley Amphitheatre in the summer to watch amazing productions under the stars. Now, theatrical productions are available all year long in thanks to partnerships between the City of Prestonsburg, the Mountain Arts Center, the Artists Collaborative Theatre, and The Appalachian Center for the Arts. The theatrical season starts February 10th-12th with The Vagina Monologues at Gearheart Auditorium, directed by Samantha Johnson with all proceeds benefitting Turning Point Domestic Violence Services. If you want a production for the entire family, Disney Descendants the Musical will take the stage at the Mountain Arts Center, March 11th-12th in partnership with The APP. Next, make sure to put PUFFS on your calendar for March 18th-19th & 25th-26th. This production at Gearheart Auditorium is brought to life by Artists Collaborative Theatre. Tickets for The Vagina Monologues can be purchased on the Facebook event page. Disney Descendants the Musical and PUFFS tickets can be purchased at www.macarts.com.
